Description of the Office of the State Auditor

The mission of the Office of the State Auditor is to oversee local government finances for Minnesota taxpayers by helping to ensure financial integrity and accountability in local governmental financial activities.

Through financial, compliance, and special audits, the State Auditor oversees and ensures that local government funds are used for the purposes intended by law and that local governments hold themselves to the highest standards of financial accountability.

The State Auditor performs approximately 160 financial and compliance audits per year and has oversight responsibilities for over 3,300 local units of government throughout the state. The office currently maintains five divisions:

Audit Practice - conducts financial and legal compliance audits of local governments;

Government Information - collects and analyzes financial information for cities, towns, counties, and special districts;

Legal/Special Investigations - provides legal analysis and counsel to the Office and responds to outside inquiries about Minnesota local government law; as well as investigates allegations of misfeasance, malfeasance, and nonfeasance in local government;

Pension - monitors investment, financial, and actuarial reporting for approximately 730 public pension funds; and

Tax Increment Financing - promotes compliance and accountability in local governments' use of tax increment financing through financial and compliance audits.

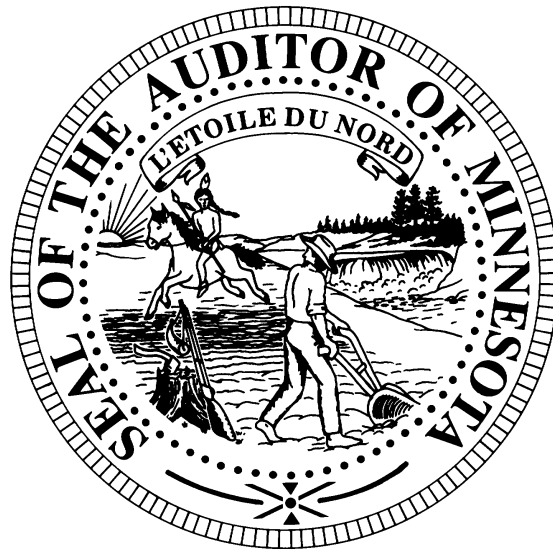

The State Auditor serves on the State Executive Council, State Board of Investment, Land Exchange Board, Public Employees Retirement Association Board, Minnesota Housing Finance Agency, and the Rural Finance Authority Board.

Scope and Methodology of Report

This report shows the costs of lobbying services provided to Minnesota local governments and their associations. The report is prepared in accordance with Minn. Stat. §6.76 (2007), which stated:

(a) On or before January 31 of each year, all counties, cities, school districts, metropolitan agencies, regional railroad authorities, and the Metropolitan Council shall report to the state auditor, on forms prescribed by the auditor, their estimated expenditures paid for the previous calendar year to a lobbyist as defined in section 10A.01, subdivision 21, except payments to associations of local governments that are reported under paragraph (b), and to any staff person not registered as a lobbyist, over 25 percent of whose time is spent during the legislative session on legislative matters.

(b) Associations of local governments subject to this section shall report annually, on or before January 31, to the state auditor and the association's members the proportionate amount of each member's dues spent for lobbying purposes.

The Office of the State Auditor has collected and published data on the lobbying services costs of local governments since 1989. This is the eleventh year that associations whose membership includes local governments were required to report their lobbying services expenditures to the Office of the State Auditor. Because of the inclusion of local government associations, the data presented in this report are not comparable with reports prior to the 1997 report. This report summarizes expenditures on local government lobbying services during the calendar year 2007¹ and is intended to inform the public and policymakers of the amount spent by their local government on lobbying services.

The reporting forms used to collect information on the expenditures by local governments and their associations for lobbyists and lobbying are presented as appendices in this report starting on page 205. The list of local government associations was developed by reviewing a list of all associations that were registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board. While the Office of the State Auditor attempted to identify all associations of local governments and provide them forms to fulfill their reporting requirement, it is the responsibility of the associations to comply with the reporting requirement. The expenditures on lobbying services are the amounts self-reported by local governments and local government associations.

¹ While the law requires associations to report on a calendar year, certain associations continue to report on their own fiscal years.

Executive Summary

- Local governments spent a total of $7,817,620 on lobbying activities in 2007. This represents an increase of $754,113, or 10.7 percent, over the amount spent in 2006 (pg. 5).
- Sixty-five local governments (two more than in 2006) directly employed or hired contract lobbyists in 2007. These local governments spent a total of $3,582,782 on staff and contract lobbyists (not including dues and membership fees paid to local government associations). This was $439,720, or 14.0 percent, more than in 2006 (pgs. 5, 6-7).
- Local governments paid dues of $10,024,137 in 2007 to local government associations that also represented their interests before the legislature. These associations spent $4,234,838 on lobbyists and lobbying in 2007. This represents an increase of 8.0 percent over 2006. Of the $4.2 million spent on lobbyists and lobbying, $3,895,819 was funded exclusively through dues. This represents an increase of 10.7 percent over the $3,520,235 in association dues that were spent on lobbying activities in 2006 (pgs. 5, 8).

Overview

According to reports filed with the Office of the State Auditor, local governments spent a total of $7,817,620 on lobbying activities in 2007. This represents an increase of $754,113 or 10.7 percent over the amount spent in 2006.

Expenditures on local government lobbying increased 10.7 percent between 2006 and 2007.

Sixty-five reporting local governments (two more than in 2006) directly employed or hired contract lobbyists in 2007. These local governments spent a total of $3,582,782 on staff and contract lobbyists.² This was $439,720 or 14.0 percent more than in 2006. Staff and contract lobbyists are paid to provide information to policymakers to influence legislative, administrative, or official actions regarding units of local government in Minnesota.

In addition to the $3.6 million paid directly to staff and contract lobbyists, local governments paid dues of $10,024,137 in 2007 to local government associations that also represented their interests before the legislature. These associations spent $4,234,838 on lobbyists and lobbying in 2007. This represents an increase of 8.0 percent over 2006. Of the $4.2 million spent on lobbyists and lobbying, $3,895,819 was funded exclusively through dues. This represents an increase of 10.7 percent over the $3,520,235 in association dues that were spent on lobbying activities in 2006.

² These expenditures do not include dues and membership fees paid to local government associations.

Lobbying Services Expenditures Made Directly by Local Governments

Staff and Contract Lobbyists

Sixty-five of Minnesota's cities, counties, school districts, and special districts directly employed staff and/or contracted with professional lobbyists to represent their interests before the legislature. Table 4 on pages 17 to 23 shows the payments made to these employees and hired professional staff as well as other costs attributable to lobbying efforts. Figure 1 shows 2007 total expenditures on staff and contract lobbyists by type of jurisdiction.

Of the 65 entities reporting to have had employed lobbying staff or hired contract lobbyists in 2007:

- Twenty-two cities and city component units reported a combined total of $1,239,465 in lobbying services expenditures. This compares to 24 cities and $1,025,824 in 2006.
- Sixteen counties and county component units reported a combined total of $1,333,710 in lobbying services expenditures. This compares to 15 counties and $1,228,471 in 2006.
- Eleven education entities reported a combined total of $432,065 in lobbying services expenditures. This compares to ten entities and $389,812 in 2006.
- Sixteen metropolitan agencies and other special districts reported a combined total of $577,542 in lobbying services expenditures. This compares to 14 agencies and $498,955 in 2006.

Highest Expenditures on Staff and Contract Lobbyists

Eleven of the 65 local governments that directly employed lobbying staff or hired contract lobbyists reported over $100,000 in lobbying services expenditures for a total of $2,111,408. These 11 local governments accounted for 58.9 percent of the total amount paid to contract and staff lobbyists in 2007. The 11 local governments are:

City of Minneapolis	$416,021	I.S.D. # 1 - Minneapolis	$152,399
Hennepin County	$334,307	Dakota County	$115,533
Anoka County	$228,983	Minneapolis Park & Recreation Board	$114,975
City of St. Paul	$221,372	Southwest - West Central Service Cooperative	$105,000
Metropolitan Airport Commission	$164,303	I.S.D. # 625 - St. Paul	$102,977
Ramsey County	$155,537

Trends in Expenditures for Staff and Contract Lobbyists

The number of entities that reported expenditures on contract and staff lobbyists increased by two, to 65, in 2007. While these two additional entities may have contributed to the 14.0 percent increase in lobbying expenditures between 2006 and 2007, other factors also contributed to the increase. The primary reason for the increase in lobbying expenditures was that the 2007 legislative session was a budget year. This means that the session was longer and more issues were considered. The other factor was more accurate reporting of direct lobbying expenditures. The Office of the State Auditor has made an effort to provide greater guidance to local entities regarding reporting requirements which has resulted in more complete disclosures. Figure 2 shows expenditures on staff and contract lobbyists for the years 2003 to 2007.

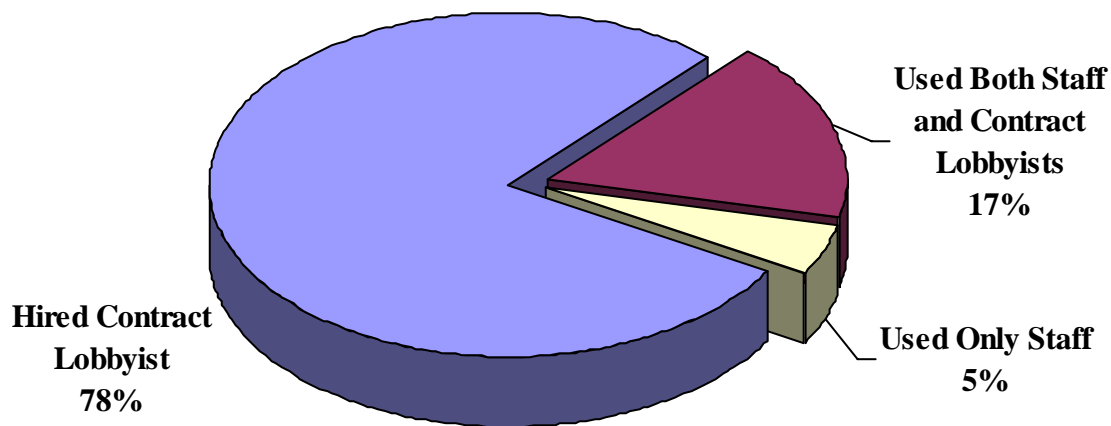

Reliance on Contract Lobbyists

Local governments more frequently use contract lobbyists than utilize their own staff to provide lobbying services. Contract lobbyists accounted for $2,130,380, or 59.5 percent, of the total amount spent by those governments using contract or staff lobbyists. Local governments spent $1,315,640 on staff lobbyists to represent their interests before the legislature and other governmental bodies. In addition, local governments reported an additional $136,762 in overhead costs related to lobbying services in 2007.

During 2007:

- 3 local governments relied entirely on their staff to represent them at the legislature;
- 51 local governments relied entirely upon contract lobbyists to represent their interests; and
- 11 local governments hired contract lobbyists and used their own staff for lobbying.

Lobbying Services Expenditures by Associations

While 65 local governments opted to hire lobbyists or use staff to lobby on their behalf, it is much more common for them to rely on various local government associations to represent their interests at the legislature.³ These local government associations receive the majority of their funding from membership dues and other public funds. Some associations representing local governments not only lobby on behalf of their members, but also act as service associations. Groups such as the League of Minnesota Cities and the Association of Minnesota Counties provide a wide range of services to their members. For these associations, lobbying services account for a smaller share of their overall expenditures as compared to associations whose primary purpose is lobbying.

Other associations are formed for the explicit purpose of lobbying the legislature on a specific issue or range of issues for which the members share a common interest. Most of these associations hire a lobbyist or a lobbying firm to influence legislative, administrative, or other official actions at the state, regional, or metropolitan level of government. The dues paid by members of these associations generally represent a percentage of the total amount paid to a contracted lobbyist.

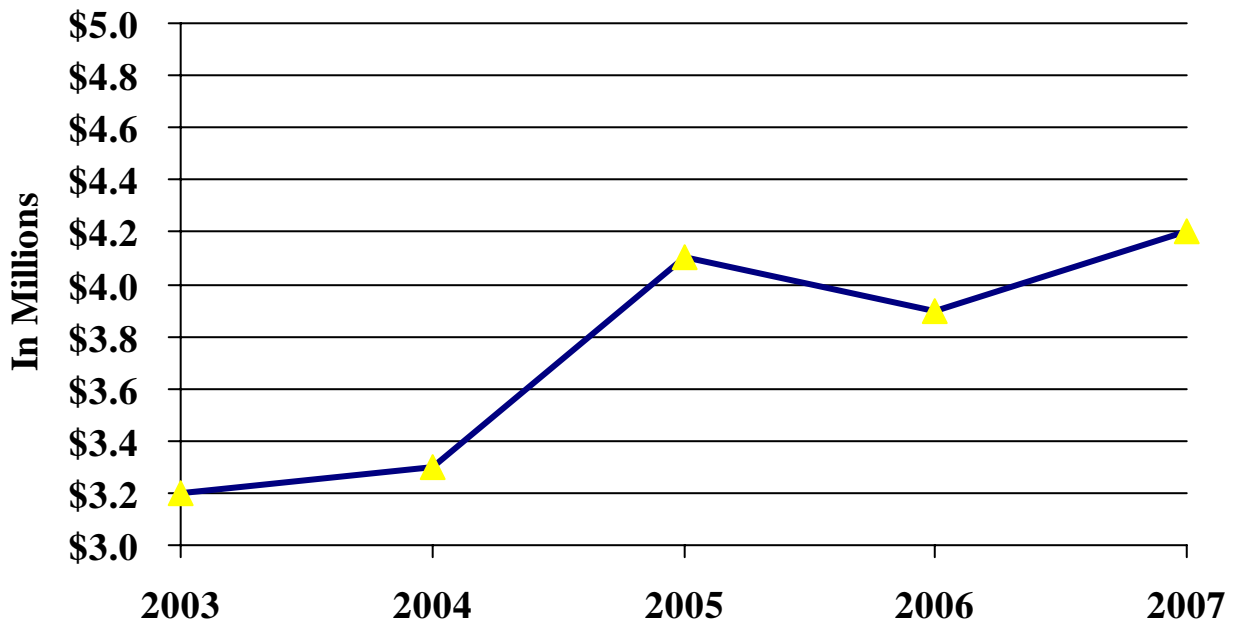

Trends in Lobbying Services Expenditures by Associations

Twenty-seven associations representing local governments reported expenditures on lobbying services totaling $4,234,838 for 2007. Of the $4.2 million spent on lobbying, $3,895,819 or 92.0 percent was funded through the dues of the association members. Total expenditures for lobbying/lobbyists by associations increased $314,393, or 8.0 percent, over the level expended in 2006.

Figure 4 on page 9 shows total expenditures on lobbying services by associations from the years 2003 to 2007. There has been a general upward trend in lobbying expenditures during this period. Some of this increase can be attributable to efforts by the Office of the State Auditor, local governments, and associations to better define what constitutes lobbying services and the amount spent on these services. In addition, this period represented a particularly challenging fiscal time for state and local governments. In this environment, associations were more active during the legislative sessions.

³The local government associations identified in this report do not include various professional associations that lobby on behalf of specific professional occupations within local governments. For example, Education Minnesota is registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board. However, because the association does not directly represent school districts or school district management personnel, its lobbying expenditures are not included in this report.

Association Lobbying by Type of Entity

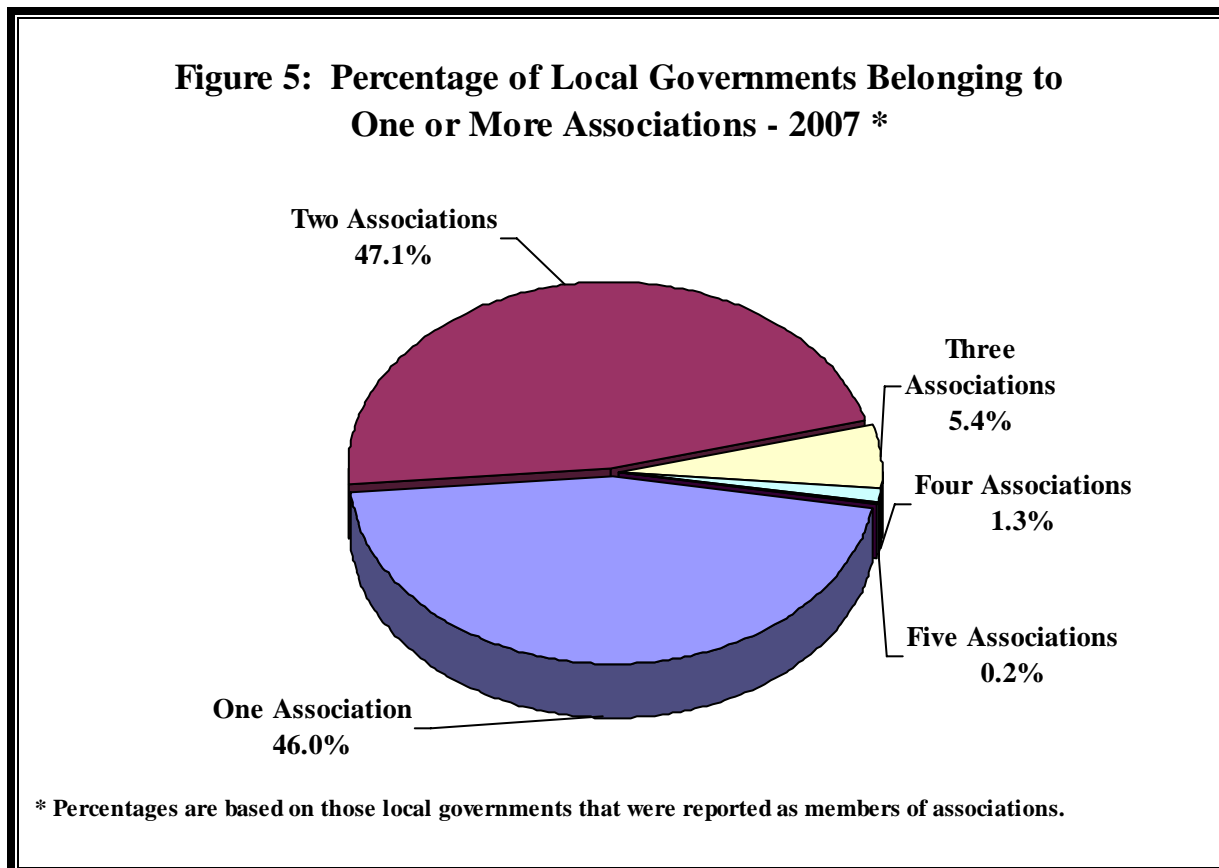

The associations reporting lobbying expenditures included:

- seven associations that represented the interests of cities;
- three associations that represented the interests of counties;
- five associations that represented the interests of school districts;
- one association that represented the interests of townships;
- four associations that represented special district interests; and
- seven associations that represented more than one type of local government.

Multiple Association Memberships

While it is common for local governments to belong to at least one association, some local units belong to several. Of the 1,450 local units of government that belonged to at least one association, there were 100 local units of government that paid dues to three or more associations. While there are no restrictions regarding the number of associations to which local governments may belong, it is good fiscal policy for local governments to evaluate whether they are receiving overlapping services.

Associations with the Highest Expenditures on Lobbying Services

Among the 27 local government associations that lobbied the legislature on behalf of their local government members, 12 associations reported expenditures on lobbying/lobbyists in excess of $100,000.

The associations that reported total lobbying expenditures exceeding $100,000 in 2007 were:

Coalition of Greater Minnesota Cities	$598,593	Schools for Equity in Education	$214,574
League of Minnesota Cities	$579,248	Association of Metropolitan Municipalities	$206,459
Minnesota School Boards Association	$549,610	North Metro Mayors Association	$197,447
Association of Minnesota Counties	$347,475	Minnesota Rural Education Association	$170,272
Association of Metropolitan School Districts, Inc.	$247,635	Minnesota Regional Service Agency	$140,000
Metropolitan Inter-County Association	$217,693	Minnesota Association of Small Cities	$106,278

Figure 6 shows the five-year trend in lobbying expenditures by the five associations with the highest lobbying expenditures in 2007 and the percent change over the five-year period.

Compensation Paid to Firms for Lobbying Services

In 2007, Minnesota local governments or associations of local governments paid 13 firms $100,000 or more to provide lobbying services.⁴ The 13 firms receiving $100,000 or more in payments from local governments or associations of local governments were:

Table 3: Lobbying Firms Receiving More Than $100,000

Flaherty & Hood P.A.	$864,355	National Strategies	$112,500
Messerli & Kramer P.A.	$356,569	Rice, Michels & Walther LLP	$111,975
David Turch & Associates	$132,000	Faegre & Benson LLP	$111,361

McGrann Shea Anderson Carnival Straughn & Lamb	$122,000	Joel Carlson	$101,716
Lockridge Grindal Nauen PLLP	$118,000

⁴ The amounts listed are those exclusively attributed to lobbying services. Some of these firms also received money for services they provided to the association or local government that they determined were not attributable to the lobbying effort.

Conclusion

The operation and funding of local governments can be greatly affected by decisions made by the state legislature. Therefore, it is understandable that those affected by these decisions would want to have representation during the legislative process. This Report documents the level of expenditures made by local governments and their associations to perform this function. An examination of trends over time highlights the cyclical nature of these expenditures as they tend to rise during the first year of the biennium (the longer session of the two) and fall during the second year of the biennium (a shorter session). Between 2002 and 2005, when the state was faced with a record budget shortfall and cuts in aid to local governments were being considered, the traditional rise and fall cycle of expenditures on lobbying was absent as special sessions and difficult budget negotiations kept lobbyists at the Capitol. This historical pattern has reemerged since 2005.

While the Office of the State Auditor recognizes that local governments set their own budget priorities, it has identified certain areas where local governments and associations may be able to reduce lobbying expenditures by examining their lobbying operations. This Report notes that certain local governments belong to three or more associations. We recommend that they evaluate the services provided by these associations. If a local government finds that it is receiving duplicative services, it may be able to reduce the number of associations to which it belongs, and reduce costs.

Among associations of local governments, it appears that associations which use outside firms to perform both lobbying and non-lobbying services may find it more cost effective to use the staff of the local governments or hire an employee to perform the administrative functions of the association (e.g., planning and coordinating annual meetings, updating websites or databases, contacting members, etc.). While certain firms may provide the best lobbying services for the association, there might be other functions that can be provided at a lower cost. If an association lowers its costs, it may be able to reduce the dues charged to its members. Appendix C provides guidance on determining whether or not to use a consultant, drafting consultant contracts, taking bids, writing Request for Proposals (RFP's), and implementing strong internal controls to manage contracts.

Contract Lobbyists

A contract lobbyist is any individual or firm, excluding employees of the local government, that meets the definition of a lobbyist as defined in Minnesota Statutes § 10A.01, subdivision 11. (Please refer to the reporting requirement document for the full definition.)

Identify all contract lobbyists retained by your local government, and indicate the total amount paid to that individual or firm for lobbying the legislature and/or state administrative agencies, including the amount paid for expenses of that individual or firm.

Expenditures for contract lobbyists do NOT include dues paid to local government associations. These associations report membership and lobbying expenditures directly to the Office of the State Auditor. Examples of these associations include the League of Minnesota Cities and the Minnesota School Boards Association.

Employees of the Local Government

Identify all employees of the local government who spend at least 25 percent of their time during the legislative session on legislative matters. For each employee listed, provide the annual salary, cost of benefits (health, dental, employer-paid life insurance and retirement benefits - including employer-paid FICA) and expense reimbursements. In addition, estimate the percent of the employee's annual time that is spent lobbying the state legislature and/or state administrative agencies.

When estimating the percent of time spent on lobbying, include time spent preparing for the legislative session, addressing legislative-related issues with local officials, legislators, state agency staff, other local government representatives, local citizens, and other interested organizations. Include time spent monitoring legislative hearings. Be sure to include in the estimate the time spent working with state administrative agencies on the development and implementation of administrative rules for programs and policies that affect local governments. Also, estimate the amount of employee expense reimbursements that are related to lobbying the legislature and/or state agencies.

Example for calculating the percentage of employee time spent on lobbying efforts:

The 2006 legislative session ran from March 1st through May 21st, 2006. An employee may have spent 100 percent of his or her time on legislative matters during March through May. This accounts for 25 percent of their time (100 percent of 3/12 months). Fifty percent of their time may have been spent on legislative matters for the other nine months. This accounts for 37.5 percent of their time (50 percent of 9/12 months). The annual percentage of this employee's time is 62.5 percent (.25+.375) and is reported in column C of the reporting form.

Expenses related to lobbying

Expenses related to lobbying include reimbursements to the employee for items such as travel, food, and the cost of materials.

Total Costs of Employee Lobbying Efforts in 2006

Add the salary and benefits for the employee (A+B), multiply the amount by the percentage of time spent on lobbying (C), then add the expenses related to lobbying (D). The total amount, in dollars, is reported in (E).

All other costs related to lobbying services for the year

List those costs associated with the 2006 lobbying effort exclusive of the salary and benefits of employees who lobby. Examples of items to include are: the actual costs of publication and distribution of each publication in lobbying; other printing; media (including the cost of production); postage; travel fees, including allowances; entertainment; telephone; and other expenses. (Minnesota Statutes § 10A.04, Subd. 4.) Include all expenditures for advertising, mailing, research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information, and public relations campaigns related to legislative action, administrative action, or the official action of metropolitan governmental units in this state. Costs of production of material that directly support lobbying, and general administrative and overhead are included as costs. (Minnesota Rule 4511.0600, subp. 5.)

Also include the prorated amount of salary and benefits of those employees who assist in research, administration, communication, and support for lobbying services.

Include all expenditures for advertising, mailing, research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information, monitoring legislative hearings, and public relations campaigns related to legislative action, administrative action, or the official action of metropolitan governmental units in this state. All salaries and administrative expenses attributable to activities of the principal relating to efforts to influence state and local policy. (Minnesota Statutes § 10A.04, Subd. 6.)

Appendix C

Guidance on the Use of Contract Lobbyists and Internal Controls

Contracting

The Office of the State Auditor recommends that associations of local governments review the structure of their association to determine if it would be more cost effective to hire full- or part-time staff to perform the administrative and/or lobbying duties than to contract with lobbying firms. If the association decides to use contract lobbyists, it should solicit several bids or proposals to ensure that it receives the best value for its dollars. The following section outlines things to consider when evaluating the use of an outside firm or consultant.¹

1. Local governments and their associations should answer the following questions before hiring an outside firm or consultant to perform lobbying duties:
 - a. Are there current employees capable of performing the job? If there are not current employees to do the work, could someone be hired to perform the work at a lower cost than a consultant? Could staff of one of the association members perform some of the duties at a lower cost?
 - b. Are there alternatives to hiring an outside consultant, such as an advisory task force, or sharing a consultant working on similar problems for other governmental entities?
 - c. What is the nature of the problem for which a hired lobbyist is necessary? Can the governing board or council draft a brief statement (100 words or less) describing what the consultant is to accomplish?
 - d. Could the duties to be performed be split into different contracts? For example, if part of the duties includes setting up meetings or conferences, updating web pages, or computer programming work, could contracts for these duties be written separately?
 - e. Could the decision to hire a consultant be justified to taxpayers?
2. If, based in part to the answers to the previous questions, the entity decides to hire a firm or consultant, the process to choose the individual or firm should involve competitive bids or Request for Proposals (RFP's). The RFP process can ensure that multiple vendors are given the opportunity to bid on the contract. Competition should lead to lower costs and better service.

Additionally, the Legislative Auditor has identified contracting principles associated with the writing, executing, monitoring, and closing of the contract.² These include:

1. Clearly define roles, responsibilities, and performance expectations of the contractor and agency staff;

² See Office of Legislative Auditor, Evaluation Report #03-02 (Professional/Technical Contracting, January 2003), pages 28 - 31.

2. Identify a variety of tools to monitor contract and contractor performance;
3. Link payment to the satisfactory completion of specific contract tasks or services, which should be spread throughout the life of the contract; and
4. Periodically evaluate the progress of the contract and determine if it is prudent to continue.

Internal Controls

The Office of the State Auditor recommends that the governing boards of associations develop and implement strong internal control policies and procedures. Internal controls are practices and processes that associations use to protect assets from loss or misuse. It is important for associations of local governments to implement the same types of internal controls that their members are required to use in their own activities. The following page provides some guidelines on internal controls that should be in place for associations of local governments.

Internal control policies should be adequate to ensure that:

1. Transactions are properly authorized.
2. Duties are properly segregated. This means that no person should be in a position to commit an irregularity and then conceal it. Examples of incompatible duties that should be performed by separate individuals are:
 - receipting collections, posting collections to registers, and making bank deposits;
 - signing checks and reconciling the bank accounts, pre-signing checks, and using signature stamps defeat these controls;
 - receipting collections and posting collections to the accounts receivable records; and
 - approving receivable write-offs/write-downs and posting adjustments to the accounts receivable records, adjusting accounting codes, and reviewing the monthly detailed report of receipts and disbursements for accuracy.
3. Accounting records and documentation are properly designed, maintained, and completed. Key documents such as receipts and checks are sequentially numbered. Voided documents are retained.
4. Access to both assets and records is controlled.
5. Accounting data are periodically compared with the underlying items they represent. Bank statements should be routinely reconciled with the cash balances recorded in the books of the account. Check amounts should be compared with the claims approved, as recorded in the minutes.
